

Discussion Questions: Breaking Down Silos between Research Centers and Academic Units

- How should universities fund centers to incentivize good outcomes and avoid unpleasant political fights with academic units?
- What are the best ways to encourage engagement in multidisciplinary centers by faculty without hurting academic departments?
- What are best practices in forming, reviewing, and sunseting centers?
- How should universities ensure that deans and center directors work collaboratively?
- What are examples of successful governance structures for centers?