

ACADEMY FOR GLOBAL ENGAGEMENT

Gretchen Neisler
November 14, 2016

We understand that we must continuously reinvent, reinvigorate and update in ways that both anticipate the needs of the global world and seriously engage a modern 21st century land-grant university

Video

- <https://drive.google.com/file/d/0BzOxwoFY79Biekk4RkZreW5sT0U/view>

Driving Forces

- Senior faculty retiring
- New approaches to global research needed
- Faculty support needs to adapt to the new culture and climate on campus
- Proactive vs. reactive
- Diversifying University funding portfolio

WHAT DO WE DO?

- Concentrate on communication of science
- Deep understanding of campus resources
- Interdisciplinary focus on their work
- Mapping funding resources
- Networking
- Partnership development
- Post award pitfalls

WHAT HAVE THEY DONE?

3 Cohorts – 29 Fellows:
$34,762,100 awarded

22 new partnerships

28 Fellow/mentee proposals
submitted

1 Jefferson Science Fellow

1 Gates Grand Challenge Awardee

1 NSF Career Award

WHAT IS NEXT?

- Focus on mid-career faculty
- Communities of Practice
 - Competitive Intel
 - Impact evaluation

A NIMBLE OASIS IN A SEA OF BUREAUCRACY

- Center vision and structure needs to be malleable and relevant to faculty needs
- Focus on reducing faculty transaction costs
- More than a service unit
- Set the global strategy for the College
- Build bridges across campus – serve as a liaison

